

Please do not relax any more media caps. In Lowell, MA we have a newspaper that is owned by Medianews, and there are many other holdings in the area. Their news is frequently innaccurate, sensationalistic, and politically biased. They are now attempting to expand into radio. They have little respect for the diverse community here in Lowell, which has one of the largest cambodian populations in the country. I work at WUML, the University of Massachusetts Lowell radio station, and the Sun made a deal with the school to acquire 5 hours a day 5 days a week for a ridiculously low cost. This was done because the Sun is the only newspaper in town, and therefore has too much political power. This deal hurt the local immigrant and student community, and has made the availability of local diverse media even more narrow. Please do your job and serve the public. We need stricter media caps and easier access to LPFM.
